

FlexDesk 640

document holder and writing slope

Computer users often use documents when working at the computer.

Unfortunately, the body is often subjected to excessive strain because these documents are spread all over the desk. With the flexible document holder FlexDesk 640 you can easily alternate between writing and computer work.

To prevent neck rotation, documents should be placed between the keyboard and display screen. A sloping work surface reduces flexion of the neck and thus increases work comfort.

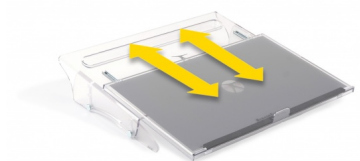

An 'in-line' document holder provides a functional work surface and short viewing distances between the document, screen and keyboard. The result is increased productivity.

Work in-line for optimal comfort

The stylish FlexDesk 640 document holder, featuring its sliding writing slope, enables the user to rotate between annotating documents and computer work easily and efficiently.

In-line workstations reduce the risk of neck and shoulder strain.
